PRINCE ALBERT POLICE SERVICE

TITLE: Re-allocation of Capital Carry Forward Funding for 9mm Handgun and Taser 7 Weapons

DATE: June 15, 2022

TO: Chief of Police

Board of Police Commissioners

PUBLIC:

INCAMERA:

RECOMMENDATIONS:

1. That the Downtown Substation Loan Payment capital funding in the amount of $75,040 be re-allocated to fund the 9mm Glock Firearm transition.
2. That the Radio Upgrades capital funding in the amount of $42,129.20 be re-allocated to fund the Taser 7 Conductive Energy Weapon transition.

TOPIC & PURPOSE:

To obtain Board approval to re-allocate Police Service capital project funding to fund the other emerging priority projects at the Prince Albert Police Service.

BACKGROUND:

The Board approved the loan payment of $75,040 as part of the 2022 Police Capital Projects. The 2021 Police Service Yearend had a surplus due to vacancies and additional revenues.

The Board approved that the 2021 surplus amount of $220,307 pay off the remaining Internal Financing with the City regarding the Purchase of the Police Service Downtown Substation. As such, the budgeted amount of $75,040 for the Downtown Substation Loan is available to be re-allocated to another priority capital project for the Police Service.

The Downtown Substation Loan is now fully repaid to the City.

In 2021, the Board approved funding in the amount of $60,000 to upgrade the current portable radios to a dual band system.

The amount of $42,129.20 was unspent on the project with a carry forward to Year 2022:

POLICE SERVICE CAPITAL FUNDING	2021 Budget	2021 Spending	C/F to 2022
Radio Upgrades	$60,000.00	$17,870.80	$42,129.20

Police Administration has secured new radios from Saskatchewan Public Safety Agency with dual band capability. As such, the amount of $42,129.20 is no longer required to fund the Radio Upgrades. This report will be recommending the re-allocation of that unspent money to a priority project for the Police Service.

PROPOSED APPROACH AND RATIONALE:

This report is recommending re-allocation of the two capital projects with unspent funding as of current date:

- re-allocation of the $75,040 to the fund 9mm Glock Firearm transition; and,
- re-allocation of $42,129.20 to fund the Taser 7 Conductive Energy Weapon transition.

9 mm Glock Firearms

Glock .40 have been in use by municipal police services since 1994. Currently, police services have been more commonly utilizing and transitioning to 9mm firearms based on a number of factors that include; ammunition availability, cost and performance, as well as lighter recoil which reduces fatigue which can improve overall accuracy. Provincially, committees were formed and research was done that supported adding the 9mm calibre to The Municipal Police Equipment Regulations, 1991.

In October 2020, the SACP requested the Commission consider legislative changes that would allow for the use of semi-automatic pistols configured to fire 9mm calibre ammunition. In March 2021, the Commission approved the recommendation. Consultation with stakeholders ensued, and on October 6, 2021, the changes were approved and ordered as requested by the Honourable Russ Mirasty, Lieutenant Governor of Saskatchewan.

The Prince Albert Police Service needs to continue to acquire new firearms to replace dated and worn pistols and it is recommended that we phase in the replacement of Glock .40 with Glock 9mm. Ideally, we would have the entire organization using the same firearm in the same calibre, however, a phased in plan over multi years is supported by the Firearm Instructor group for PAPS.

Cost Savings:

25,000 rounds a year we would save approximately $3000.00 in ammunition expenses. In the past few years 9mm ammo has risen mainly due to the Covid 19 pandemic. The savings should grow as production of ammo increases and demand decreases.

Taser 7 Conductive Energy Weapon

Earlier this year, the Saskatchewan Police Commission updated its policy on the energy weapons to allow police services in the province to use the newer device as the earlier model is being discontinued.

Conducted energy weapons (CEW) are widely used by law enforcement to gain control of subjects in potentially violent situations. However, the use of CEWs is not without risk. A 2007 tragedy outside of the Province precipitated a comprehensive examination of the use of CEWs. As a result of that review, the Saskatchewan Police Commission implemented standards for the use of CEWs and operator certification.

Conducted Energy Weapon – Taser 7 (Saskatchewan) is designed to ensure police officers can safely use a CEW and can articulate the legal, technical, medical, and accountability requirements for use of a CEW.

The expiring Taser model X26 Conducted Energy Device (CEW) has presented various issues since being implemented in police agencies across Saskatchewan. Lack of penetration into different types of clothing, probes being inaccurate and/or bouncing off subjects, and not achieving neuromuscular incapacitation (NMI) have been the most prominent. Furthermore, the manufacturer (Axon) has ceased producing the X26, making warranty and equipment replacement a significant issue.

A comprehensive study and proposal was completed by the Regina Police Service and concluded that the Saskatchewan Police Commission include the Taser 7 as an approved CEW for the Province of Saskatchewan which has now been authorized.

The design, operation, handling and data management enhancements of the Taser 7 support a transition away from the current X26 model. The use of Conducted Energy Devices is proven to be an effective tool in ensuring public safety to safely take control of subjects in volatile and dangerous situations. They are an essential tool to current police operations as an alternative use of force option.

PAPS policy mandates the use, deployment and practice of all conducted energy devices within the Prince Albert Police Service upon approval of the Chief of Police. Currently, front line members are equipped with a CEW as it is a necessary tool to ensure officer and public safety. It is imperative that the all members are properly equipped to adequately serve the public in a professional and competent manner, including the assignment of standard issued CEW as part of a member's front line kit.

The Prince Albert Police Service consists of 4 platoons that provide the community with 24-hour coverage – 7 days a week. Each platoon consists of 12 members. Every front line patrol member should be equipped with a CEW. In addition, several support sections, including but not limited to; Police & Crisis Teams (PACT), Special Weapons & Tactics (SWAT), Combined Traffic Services Saskatchewan (CTSS), Community Policing Unit, Proactive Policing Unit, K-9, and Criminal Investigations Division (CID) all require the use of CEWs throughout the course of their duties, thus creating the demand to be 30 units. The PAPS has acquired Taser 7s for special teams supported by operational budgets for those units. A total of 11 units have been ordered.

The CEW, while considered an intermediate weapon, has demonstrated to be an effective intermediate use of force option on the continuum prior to lethal force. Since implementation, CEWs have supported safe apprehension of persons arrested during criminal investigations and also persons threatening self harm when suffering from mental health crisis. CEW are undoubtedly an indispensable tool to front line policing operations.

COMMUNICATION AND/OR ANNOUNCEMENT PLAN:

Once approved by the Board, the funding of the identified capital projects will be re-allocated to fund the capital costs in Year 2022 relating to 9mm Glock Firearm transition and the Taser 7 Conductive Energy Weapon transition.

Dear Mayor Dionne (Vice Chair of the Police Commission):

The Prince Albert Downtown Business Improvement District (PADBID) is looking for solutions to the ever-growing social issues of our downtown.

We are in the process of researching with our Board of Directors the many questions they have of hiring a private security company. Therefore, we have a meeting scheduled on Tuesday, June 14, 2022 at 6:30pm with Prince Albert Security Services and a City Police representative.

It is our goal to start a three-month pilot project with Prince Albert Security Services during the months of July 1 to September 30, 2022 inclusive. This will be a five day a week contract with primary walking patrols but with driving as an option during wet days. The security company will keep data on the number of calls, the type of incidents they deal with and how they handled these incidents.

We have a quote that includes two staff from the security company. The source of funds is our reserves. The business owner feels that due to the unpredictable nature of the clientele his staff will be dealing within our downtown core, that two staff are required for safety purposes.

The PADBID office is asking if there are any monies within the Police Commission budget to partner on the cost of this pilot project? We understand that it is a late budget request and would be time consuming to wait for next year's budget cycle.

The business community needs the security support to have the freedom to conduct their business without the stressors of having their downtown customers scared away.

Sincerely,

Rhonda and Perry Trusty, Executive Director(s)
